TWENTY-FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME – SEPTEMBER 11, 2016

September 11, 2001 – Fifteen Years Later

What were we doing on December 7, 1941? Where were we when our neighbor President Franklin Roosevelt died? When John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King, Jr., and Robert F. Kennedy were struck down by assassin's bullets? The Challenger explosion? What were we doing on that sunny, late summer September morning when three simultaneous terrorist attacks of American soil changed the world?

September 11, 2001, oddly seems like it happened yesterday but at the same time seemed like it was years ago. Interesting, there are now young people who were not yet born or those who have no recollection of those terrible events. The new concern is how to keep this tragedy in the historical context for those who were born after that terrible day fifteen years ago.

A little town in Northern New Jersey has developed a poignant way to keep the memories of that horrible day from being consigned to the back pages of history. Last year, a local businessman in Cedar Grove, Essex County, New Jersey funded a project for the grounds of the local high school, where 2996 12" X 18" flags were to be symmetrically placed on the front lawn of the local high school. These flags, representing every soul who perished at the World Trade Center, the pentagon in Arlington, Virginia, and Shanksville, Pennsylvania. Although most of the flags were American, there were other national flags interspersed throughout the memorial...from India to Germany, Great Britain to China, Bermuda to Canada. A moving array. The entrepreneur who funded this memorial came to realize that the members of the class entering that high school were born in w2001 and hoped that such a tribute would instill concern and remembrance for the victims and their families.

All of us in some way were affected, and continue to feel the sorrow of September 11, 2001. We as Catholics are buttressed by prayer, Holy Mass and the great reverence for our dearly departed and the hope of the Resurrection of the Body. As we gather for Holy Mass this Sunday, may we commend to prayer our brothers and sisters who perished this day, fifteen years ago. And please join us for a special memorial service at the flagpole immediately after the 11:30am Mass.

Eternal rest grant unto them O Lord. And let perpetual light shine upon them.

- Fr. Michael Morris
